MĀORI ELECTORAL OPTION

Choose the roll that works best for you and your whānau.

What is the Māori Electoral Option?

The Māori Electoral Option is a unique choice for Māori in Aotearoa. It lets you choose which electoral roll you're on: Māori roll or general roll.

Your roll choice decides:

- which electorate you vote in
- the candidates you can choose from.

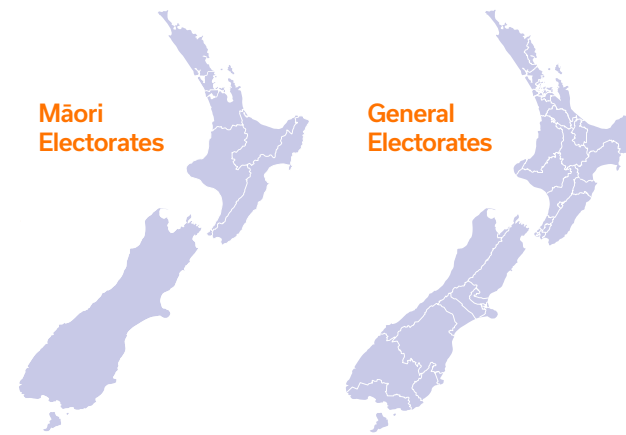

Your roll choice can also influence the number of Māori and general seats in Parliament.

This choice does not affect your party vote. You vote for the same list of political parties whichever roll you're on.

The impact of your choice

The roll you choose decides which electorate you vote in. For example, if you live in Rotorua and choose the Māori roll, you will vote in the Waiariki electorate. The person who wins the most votes in the Māori electorate of Waiariki will become your local MP.

If you choose the general roll, you will vote in the Rotorua electorate. The person who wins the most votes in the general electorate of Rotorua will become your local MP.

How to participate

Already enrolled? Check your roll type and update it at vote.nz or call 0800 36 76 56. Make sure we have your email address and your mobile number so we can keep you up to date.

You can:

When you enrol for the first time or change the roll you're on, we'll send you a letter or email to check your details and roll choice are correct. Questions? Give us a call and we'll help you out.

When to make a choice

If you would like to change the roll you are on before the election, you need to do it by midnight, Thursday 6 August 2026. The 2026 General Election will be held on Saturday 7 November. You cannot change rolls in the 3 months before the election.

If you miss the deadline, you'll stay on your current roll until after the election.

Why your choice is important

The Māori Electoral Option is a distinct part of our democracy.

Over the past 50 years, thousands of Māori have made the choice between Māori roll and general roll. In doing so, and by voting in local and general elections, they've helped to shape our country.

This year, you too have the same choice. Making your choice is a way you can mihi to the many Māori who have gone before you. It's also a powerful way to acknowledge the Māori who are yet to come.

It's more than admin. This is about representation for you, your whānau, and your community.

Make a choice today

If you're already enrolled and don't make a choice by Thursday, 6 August, you'll stay on your current roll until after the election. If you're happy with the roll you're on you don't need to do anything.

Don't delay. Enrol or check your roll today at vote.nz or call 0800 36 76 56.

Your voice matters. Make a choice today for you, your whānau, and your community.

Help your whānau get enrolled to vote

If any of your whānau or friends didn't get a letter about the Māori Electoral Option, help them get enrolled so they can make a choice too.
